So, we head into the final day of the season, looking like this:

U-TCB918 - TCBA Origins 1917 MLB - Standings on Sep. 23, 1917

	W	L	PCT	GB	Mg #	STRK
TCBA Origins 1917 MLB

Barrow Pharaohs	46	107	.301	48.0	-	W 3

If Long Island wins today, they will have a half game lead over Hyde Park, and then make up a rain out in Cleveland against the Spiders. If the Vitamen win, the rainout is moot, and Hyde Park will win the Division

Red Faber benefits from a pair of double plays to pitch the Vitamen to the Division title, defeating the Islanders 4-1. With the 2nd best record in the league, Long Island misses the playoffs, while the 99-game winning Hyde Park will host the winner of the Kirwin Division title

In Bergen, Fred Toney outduels Lefty Williams for his 21st win of the year for Bergen, 3-1.

In Barrow, the Naps take no prisoners. Led by Bobby Veach, with 5 hits, including a triple and a homer, 4 RBI and 3 runs, Cleveland runs away, 15-0, which forces a 1-game playoff for the McCorkindale title.

Barrow Pharaohs	46	108	.299	49.0	-

The Barflies won 10 of their 18 games against Cleveland, and will therefore host the 1-game playoff for the McCorkindale title.

The Cleveland Naps led the McCorkindale Division almost wire-to-wire. Bergen overtook them with one day to go in the schedule but then lost on the last day to Waukesha. Cleveland beat big lumps on Barrow, 15-0, to tie the race after game 154. All of that commotion resulted in a one-game playoff on Zoom. Dutch Leonard toed the rubber for the Barflies and 20-game winner, Art Nehf, took the hill for the Naps.

Game – The game's first run came in the 2nd inning when Roy Hobbs' 2-out double scored Hy Myers. Bergen bounced back to tie the game in their half of the 5th when Casey Stengel scored on a single by Young. In the top of the 7th Bobby Veach opened with a triple. One out later Red Smith walked and Myers dunked a single into center -- 2-1, Naps. With 2 out, light-hittlng Sam Agnew singled in Smith to make the score 3-1. Veach's 8th inning sac fly made the score 4-1. In the home 8th Lefty Meade started a rally with a single for Bergen. The Barflies loaded the bases with 2 down but Nehf induced Duffy Lewis to bounce to short and the game moved to the 9th. Lee Meadows came on for BB and the Naps climbed all over him, scoring 5 times. Bergen picked up a run in the 9th to make the final score 9-2 in favor of Cleveland, a score that makes the game look more one-sided than it was.

Congrats to Tom. Despite tailing almost all season engineered a comeback for Barflies that got oh-so-close

Origins Playball 1918 Semi-Finals Buffalo vs. Cleveland

Buffalo Mules Sweep Cleveland Naps in Four-Game Playoff Series

The Buffalo Mules left little doubt about who owned this series. After blasting Cleveland in the opener, surviving a brief pushback in the middle games, and winning a tense pitchers' duel to close it out, Buffalo completed a convincing four-game sweep of the Cleveland Naps.

Game 1: Buffalo Announces Its Arrival

Buffalo 11, Cleveland 3

The Mules opened the series with an offensive explosion, piling up 17 hits and scoring in five different innings. A four-run eighth inning broke the game open after Buffalo had gradually built a lead. S. Magee went 4-for-6 with two runs scored, while J. Austin added four hits and two RBIs. N. Katon chipped in two clutch RBI singles after entering the game.

Cleveland managed just seven hits and was hurt by four errors. Starter H. Vaughn kept the game respectable through seven innings before the bullpen unraveled late. Buffalo's pitching staff, led by winning starter C. Bender, held the Naps to three runs.

Series: Buffalo leads 1-0

Game 2: Buffalo Buries Cleveland Early

Buffalo 12, Cleveland 5

If Game 1 was a warning shot, Game 2 was a knockout punch. Buffalo erupted for five runs in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth, racing to a commanding lead. S. Magee scored four runs, while C. Ward delivered a four-hit performance. J. Austin, T. Cobb, and F. Luderus combined for seven RBIs.

Cleveland showed more life offensively, collecting eight hits. B. Veach tripled, doubled, and drove in two runs, but defensive miscues and ineffective pitching proved too much to overcome. Starter R. Russell was charged with 11 runs in less than five innings.

With consecutive double-digit scoring games, Buffalo seized complete control of the series.

Series: Buffalo leads 2-0

Game 3: Cleveland Fights, Buffalo Finishes

Buffalo 7, Cleveland 4

Facing elimination, Cleveland finally mounted its strongest challenge. The Naps collected 10 hits, including a four-hit day from B. Veach. They scored twice in the sixth inning to take a 4-3 lead and appeared poised to extend the series.

Buffalo answered immediately. The Mules scored two runs in the seventh and tacked on two more in the eighth to reclaim control. S. Magee scored three runs, J. Austin collected three hits and two RBIs, and F. Luderus added two hits and an RBI.

Reliever B. Boland was the difference on the mound, throwing three scoreless innings after starter R. Marquard struggled through six frames.

Series: Buffalo leads 3-0

Game 4: Pitching and Nerves Complete the Sweep

Buffalo 4, Cleveland 2

The clincher was the closest game of the series and the only one decided primarily by pitching. Buffalo managed only five hits, but made them count. A first-inning run set the tone, and a crucial two-run double by pitcher L. Cadore provided the decisive blow.

Cleveland starter A. Nehf pitched well enough to win on most days, allowing just five hits over eight innings, but received little offensive support. The Naps were limited to five hits of their own.

Buffalo's pitching trio of L. Cadore, F. Coumbe, and C. Bender shut the door. Bender recorded the save as the Mules celebrated a series-clinching victory on the road.

Final Series Result: Buffalo wins 4-0

Series MVP: S. Magee

No player was more consistently dangerous than Magee. Across the series, he repeatedly set the table for Buffalo's offense, scoring runs in bunches and collecting key hits in all four games. His combination of timely hitting, speed, and run production helped fuel Buffalo's sweep.

Series in One Sentence

The Buffalo Mules overwhelmed Cleveland with relentless offense in the first two games, showed resilience in a comeback Game 3, and relied on dominant pitching in Game 4 to complete a decisive four-game playoff sweep.

The Mules Meet the Vitamen: World Series Opens Tuesday

The road to the Origins 1918 World Series ends Tuesday, November 17, when Seitz Division winner Aaron Anderson's Buffalo Mules (89–65) face Mahley Division champion Red Braun's Hyde Park Vitamen (99–55).

First pitch is expected at 8:40 p.m. Gates open at 8:20 p.m. Ticket vouchers for the series will be posted here.

Hyde Park arrives with the stronger record—and a batting order that has spent the season making pitchers reconsider their career choices. Hal Chase collected 173 hits and 99 RBI, while Rogers Hornsby scored 85 runs. The Vitamen's Jim Bagby led the staff with 25 wins and a 1.95 ERA; Slim Sallee added 19 wins.

Buffalo brings a formidable counterpunch. Ty Cobb hit .356, scored 123 runs, and piled up 212 hits. On the mound, Chief Bender posted a 1.05 ERA, while Leon Cadore went 14–9 with a 1.50 ERA. The Mules may have fewer wins, but they have enough pitching to make every Hyde Park rally earn its vitamins.

It's a clash of a 99-win champion against an 89-win challenger, with Cobb, Chase, Hornsby, Bagby, and Bender ready to make the box score do some heavy lifting. Bring your voucher, find your seat, and be ready: the only thing certain is that someone's bullpen will have a busy evening.

World Series schedule: Tuesday, November 17
Gates open: 8:20 p.m.
First pitch: 8:40 p.m.
Ticket vouchers: To be posted here

Game 1 —

Buffalo struck first, but the Vitamen answered in the bottom of the opening inning. Harry Hooper helped get the rally going, Jack Smith drove in runs with a triple, and a Buffalo throwing error let Hyde Park add another. The Vitamen had turned a one-run deficit into a 4–1 lead before the game had properly settled into its seats.

Hyde Park added one more in the second. Bagby took that cushion and made it last: nine innings, eight hits, one run. Buffalo managed traffic, but not enough to bring the Mules home. Bagby's complete-game win was a tidy opening act. Nobody knew yet how long the headliner would stay on stage.

For most of the game, Hyde Park seemed to have Game 2 under control. Buffalo had pulled within 2–1, but the Vitamen scored twice in the eighth to lead 4–1. Three runs ahead with three outs to go: a comfortable spot, unless the Mules had other plans.

They did. In the ninth, Sherry Magee tripled, Ty Cobb singled him home, and Art Wilson followed with a triple that brought Cobb across. The tying run scored on a sacrifice fly. Then, with two outs, Mike Menosky lined a single past first base to drive in the go-ahead run.

Buffalo tried to score another runner on the play, but Hyde Park's relay got him at the plate. The Vitamen had stopped the bleeding, but the wound was already fatal: 5–4, Mules. Fritz Coumbe retired Hyde Park in order in the bottom half. The Buffalo dugout could finally breathe; Hyde Park's, perhaps, needed a moment.

Game 3 —

Hyde Park built a 4–0 lead by the third, with Hal Chase and Jack Smith delivering key hits. Buffalo chipped away, then made its move in the eighth: two runs tied it at 4–4 and sent the game into extra innings.

The Vitamen loaded the bases in the eighth, and Bagby came in to face the danger. A comebacker turned into a double play, and the inning ended with Buffalo still level. Bagby kept working through the ninth and into the tenth.

Hyde Park scored the go-ahead run in the tenth on another Jack Smith hit. Buffalo still had one last chance: Buck Herzog walked, putting the tying run aboard. But when Les Nunamaker hit a grounder, Rogers Hornsby, Roy Grover, and Chase turned it into a game-ending double play. Bagby earned the win. The Mules had found the tying run; the Vitamen found two outs at once.

Game 4 —

This one stayed scoreless through eight innings. Both teams had chances, both defenses made plays, and the scoreboard remained stubbornly blank.

Then came the ninth. Wally Schang reached when the Buffalo catcher dropped a foul pop. Jack Smith's hit-and-run moved him along, and Max Flack drove him home with a double. Roy Grover grounded out to bring in a second run. Then Flack stole home.

Yes: stole home. In a World Series game. With two outs. Apparently the Vitamen had decided the ninth needed one more plot twist.

Chief Bender had pitched well for Buffalo, but Hyde Park's three runs were enough. Buffalo scored once in the bottom half, then Rube Benton finished the 3–1 complete-game victory.

Game 5 —

Hyde Park scored twice early, and Bagby went to work with a two-run lead. He carried a no-hitter into the sixth, when Chuck Ward finally singled. The Mules had a hit; Bagby had a game plan.

Buffalo's best chance came in the eighth, when Art Wilson walked and Jimmy Austin's line drive struck Bagby and stayed in play for a single. The tying runs were aboard with nobody out. Bagby got an infield fly, struck out Buck Herzog, and then got a controversial third strike on pinch-hitter Les Nunamaker—who had already started toward first. The inning ended with Buffalo still scoreless and Nunamaker left to reconsider his route.

In the ninth, Bagby allowed a single, then struck out Cobb and Menosky to finish the shutout. Final score: Hyde Park 2, Buffalo 0.

The Bagby Case

The TCBA Origins 1918 World Series gave the crowd five games, one Buffalo uprising, an extra-inning escape act, a stolen home, and Jim Bagby pitching as though he'd misplaced the bullpen door.

Bob Braun's Hyde Park Vitamen defeated Aaron Anderson's Buffalo Mules four games to one. Bagby finished 3–0, with 20⅔ innings pitched, 13 hits allowed, one earned run, and 11 strikeouts. He won the opener with a complete game, rescued Game 3 in relief, and closed the series with another complete game—a four-hit shutout.
MVP-worthy? The Mules might have preferred the award go to someone who pitched less.

Although a well-managed Buffalo made the series interesting, Hyde Park made the last three games its own. And Bagby, after appearing everywhere from the first pitch to the final out, left little doubt who had been carrying the Vitamen's water—and their chances.
